MANAGEMENT DISCUSSIONS & ANALYSIS

(As per the requirement of the provisions of the Listing Agreement, as part of the Director's report or in addition thereto a Management Discussion & Analysis Report forming part of the Annual Report to the Members is given below discussing the key issues).

THE ECONOMIC SCENARIO:

According to the Economic Survey 2012-13 the economy grew at 5.0 per cent in 2012-13 and is expected to grow at 6.1-6.7 per cent in the next fiscal year. The International Monetary Fund has also lowered its forecast on India's economic growth at 6.2% to 6.3% in the coming year. No doubt the economy is going through a gloomy period on account of slow down in the global economies.

India's economic troubles are reflected in its gaping fiscal deficit, persistently high inflation and pessimism among businesses and consumers. This has driven down investments and demand. The country's import bill has swelled, leading to a record-high current account deficit at 6.7% of GDP in the October-December quarter. India has been trying to attract foreign capital to narrow the current account gap. However the government's recent reform measures, improving external demand and a better monsoon season may boost economic activity in time to come. Since September, the Govt. has accelerated the reform process such as reducing fuel subsidies, easing foreign investment restrictions in retail and civil aviation, and setting up a ministerial panel to fast-track industrial projects. These have improved sentiment although more steps especially to facilitate infrastructure and industrial development are necessary to revive investment and boost growth.

THE INDUSTRY:

The Indian media industry mainly comprises of print media, Out of Home, television, film industry and digitization. The momentum of spends on media and entertainment has also been affected due to slow down in economy in last financial year.

Print Media:

India's media and entertainment industry is poised to double in size by 2017, according to a report put out by FICCI-KPMG. According to the report the industry, whose current size is estimated at Rs 91,700 crores, is expected to touch Rs 1,66,000 crores by 2017. The size of the advertising industry in India is estimated to be Rs 36,200 crores and Print media continues to account for a larger share at 44.7% followed by TV at 38.2%. By 2017. It is estimated that the size of the Indian advertising industry would be Rs 63,000 crores with both print and TV having a share of 38-40% each. Digital advertising is estimated to post a robust 32.1% growth to reach Rs 8,720 crores from the current level of Rs 2,170 crores.

The revenue of the print media organizations are mainly depends upon circulation and advertisements. The traditional Print Media Industry is passing through consolidation phase due to competition with other segment of media industry, as most of the advertisers have curtailed their budget for the advertisement on account of slow down in economy. Secondly cost of input materials of print media are also gone up substantial thereby increased cost of material.

Out of Home Media:

The present worldwide slow down and uncertainty in the international market and domestic economic has affected the OOH industry including our company.

The OOH industry is highly fragmented mainly denominated by unorganized regional players. There is no common platform in outdoor where all stakeholders can come together to address the various issues. There is no common regulatory platform, and every region has its own governed body and issues of each region is tackled by that particular governing body. To start off, the industry should work towards getting out of local municipal corporations and forming a consolidated national body. Measurability issue can be tackled only when investments flow in. There are many agencies working towards that as well.

OOH as a mass advertising medium has been present for years. Whether as a political medium, an art form or for commercial brand communications, posters or billboards are an established and expected part of urban environment. The evolution for OOH has been gradual, but it has definitely become an integral part of most campaigns and plans.

SAMBHAAV MEDIA LIMITED

LED and LCD hoardings in OOH are becoming more and more eminent and the industry is shifting towards digitization. The faster the integration of OOH with digital equipments, it will help OOH and be a big growth driver. By 2020, Marc Prensky predicts people across the globe will be plugged into the 'AORTA,' -- Always On Real Time Access. A future in which people are constantly able to access information and news from anywhere on the planet. OOH will have no choice but to synergise this.

Transit media will grow speedily as and when public transportation will become more sophisticated; brands have already started ticking transit media in their outdoor media plans in a big way. There are five major reasons for that - one, because it is extremely economically; two, it can be time-lined; three, it can be mass as well as niche; four, it can be engaging; and lastly, it can be highly innovative.

Bus Shelters - an effective OOH medium

Looking for a cost-efficient medium with high brand recall and healthy Return on Investments (ROIs) to advertise the product, one should head to the nearest bus stop. The bus shelters, strategically placed in areas with the target group travelling either by foot or in a vehicle, are fast becoming coveted advertising mediums. FMCG brands, television channels and retail brands have increasingly started using bus shelters as a medium to deliver their brand message as advertisement placed at bus shelter make it easy to see the brand.

Many advertisers prefer to go for bus shelter advertising as it is cost-efficient and has a high brand recall, especially in the metros like Mumbai, Delhi and Chennai. Bus shelter advertising contributes approximately 10-15 per cent of the overall OOH advertising spends.

Bus shelters are primarily service-oriented street furniture item. They also proved to be a very effective OOH format as they offer an efficient channel for the brands to reach out to the consumers in every nook and corner of the city. Advertisers have acknowledged this medium as very cost-effective, offering best in class ROIs. Bus shelters also provide widespread exposure to their campaigns, catering to a wide range of target groups.

Further since billboards and hoardings are now facing government restrictions, bus shelter advertising, which is high-impact and high-frequency advertising, is bound to grow further. Bus shelter and likewise street furniture would be the future of OOH advertising, as these serve the dual purpose of being a utility as well as an ad revenue stream. Thus the growth potential in case of bus shelter advertising is huge and it will continue to grow as more and more cities adapt to these service-oriented formats. Globally, bus shelters are already a very popular communication vehicle in the world's best cities.

OPPORTUNITIES, RISK AND CHALLENGES:

The macro factors such as rising literacy, increasing penetration in semi-urban and rural areas and stable newsprint prices in future are likely to ensure profitable growth for the print media sector. Future growth is largely driven by semi-urban and rural areas on account of increasing commercial activity, higher spending power and rising literacy. With the language print medium dominating in these areas, language newspapers are preferred over English newspapers. Language newspapers will emerge stronger from the recent slowdown owing to the strong business model. Increase in advertisement expenditure by consumer-oriented companies and emergence of newer advertisement-spending industries such as education, organized retail, telecom, and financial services are likely to ensure healthy advertising revenues.

The " Public Entertainment System" project with Gujarat State Road Transport Corporation (GSRTC), a unique and first of its kind in Asian region is expected generate more revenue which may ultimate results in our profitability. Deferred tax assets is recognized and carried forward only to the extent that there is a reasonable certainty that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such assets can be realized.

Provisions, Contingent liabilities and Contingent Assets

Provision is recognized when an enterprise has a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and in respect of which a reliable estimate can be made. Provisions are determined based on management estimates required to settle the obligation at the balance sheet date. These are reviewed at each balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current management estimate.

A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, requires an outflow of resources. Where there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed.

Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date.

Borrowing Costs

Interest and other borrowing cost attributable to qualifying assets are capitalized. Other interest and borrowing cost are charged to revenue.
